BRYAN! BIMETALLISM!

Silver the Next Campaign Cry.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—"Bryan and Bimetallism" will be the campaign cry of the silver Democracy for 1900.

William Jennings Bryan spent Christmas in Chicago. He arrived in town on a belated train from Atlanta, missed connections and decided to put in the day at his publishers looking over the advance sheets of his new book. Mr. Bryan's presence was not known to the local Democrats with the exception of Robert E. Burke, with whom he held a conference at the Clifton House, prior to his departure for home on the Burlington at 10:30 last evening.

The forthcoming Jackson Day banquet was discussed. It was decided that the first gun for the Democratic campaign for 1900 would be fired on that occasion. Mr. Bryan is at work on a speech for that event. It will define the future of the party and incidentally refer to the causes which led to the defeat last November.

The Bryan boom for 1900 is to be launched in Chicago January 7th with the Jackson day banquets as sponsors. Mr. Bryan spent most of his time on the train from Atlanta in reading the life of Andrew Jackson. He is primed to arouse memories of "Old Hickory" and to hold the picture of the idol of the old time Democracy up to public view with a new silver frame.

Bimetallism is to be the keynote of the speech. It is also to be the keynote which Mr. Bryan will sound in his new book, "The First Battle," soon to be issued. The position of Mr. Bryan toward Democrats who deserted him in the last campaign remains unchanged. His ultimatum that they must come back in sackcloth and ashes with penitent hearts and with heads bowed with profound reverence to the will of the majority, still stands. He will pay his respects to this faction at the Jackson banquet and it will form a feature of his new book.

The leader of the Silver Democracy is organizing for a unity of all silver forces for the next campaign under the banner of bimetalism. Whether he leads or whether some other Silver Democrat is called upon to be standard bearer, an alliance is to be courted with Silver Republicans and Populists. The first step in this direction will be in the dedication of his new book. It will be tenderly inscribed by the distinguished author to Henry M. Teller, Richard P. Bland and General J. B. Weaver. A tribute to the triple alliance penned by Mr. Bryan in the same friendly spirit will contain a significant reference to these three men as representatives of the three elements which forced silver as an issue in the recent campaign and laid the foundation for a continuation of the battle for bimetalism.

To Subscribers.

All subscribers who owe the APPEAL at the present time are requested to get themselves in readiness to settle by the first of January. There are also quite a number of dead heads on the list. If they do not notify the office that they wish the paper continued after Jan. 1st they will be dropped from the list. If they don't want the paper sufficiently to pay for it, the supposition is that they don't want it at all.

All parties in arrears over a year will please call on the captain's office and settle and thereby avoid the bother of being chased around by a legal collector.

The Mint.

No change will be made in the mint for some time to come or at least until July 1897. The rumor that five men would be dismissed is without foundation.

The Ways and Means Committee reduced the appropriation $5,000, which if allowed by Congress will necessitate either a reduction in forces or in wages. This has been a common occurrence for a number of years, but through the strenuous efforts of our representatives in the National legislature the appropriation has always been replaced at its original figure.

The papers are reporting that Andrew Roberts will succeed Geo. Mills as Fish Commissioner. The News cannot credit the rumor. The office is not a political one and the change would be ridiculous. News.

The APPEAL has no reason why Mr. Roberts should not make as good a Fish Commissioner as Mr. Mills.

A man named Vincent Bailey showed up in Court in San Francisco yesterday and alleged that he had paid a fine in a case of assault and battery pending against him. A man who was to divide a $1000.00 judge Conlan and the District Attorney.

Katie Emmett.

There was a good audience at the Opera House last night to witness the melodrama "The Waifs of New York." It abounds in stirring scenes and is a very lively play all through.

Before Katie Emmett had been many moments on the stage she was fixed in the affection of those who saw her; she is trimly built, with bright eyes, white teeth, a sunny face and a nimble foot to fill out the picture. It is as a boy that Miss Emmett makes her clearest appeal for praise; her naive way and cute personality in boy's attire heightened the effect, which is irresistible.

The support was fair and the audience enjoyed the evening thoroughly.

Senator Jones was in this city yesterday. No one seems to know whether or not his visit had any political significance.

In response to the candidacy of Geo. Nixon, he had very little to say except that he had built a house in Santa Monica because of the health of his daughter, who needed the sea air and that he had not lived there himself over six months in his life. He left for Gold Hill by private conveyance in the afternoon.

Another Good Appointment.

Governor Sadler has appointed Editor Kelly, of the Reno Journal as his Private Secretary. This is another good appointment, the Governor thereby recognizing a man who had for years written in behalf of silver and stood squarely by the party.

It is quite likely that Charles S. Osburn, formerly of the Silver State, but now running a paper at East Dubuque, Illinois, will take charge of the Journal during Mr. Kelly's continuance in office.

Recovering His Sight.

Tony Kramer is slowly recovering his sight under a new treatment by a local physician. He is now able to discern light and sees a little more light every week. In another month he expects to be able to discern objects. Kramer is about the happiest man in town at the prospects of his recovery.

Excitement at Elko.

There has not been so much excitement at Elko for years as now. All because of the Teacher's Institute, nearly all the handsome school teachers in the State are there and the town is in a great flutter.

The Elko people say they much rather have a Teacher's Institute than a State political convention, and they are trying to have these educational divinites stay another week.

The astounding assertion of Secretary of State, Richard Olney, that a resolution recognizing the independence of a new nation, passed by both houses of Congress, will be looked upon by President Cleveland "merely as an expression of opinion by the eminent gentlemen who voted for it," strikes a destructive snag in the following extract from the Constitution of the United States:

"Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States, and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill."

Still Grover I have never yet permitted such a little thing as the Constitution to remain in the way of his imperial will.—Sacramento Bee.

Cleveland has set the Constitution at defiance whenever he felt like it and has done so with absolute impunity.

Rockefeller was once a working man, and Harvey Scott, claims he was once a laborer, but they must remember Judas was once an apostle and the devil was once in heaven.—Portland Howler.

Mr. George Bryson sends the APPEAL a card nearly two columns long explaining his connection with the stalking of the tin geese last Sunday near the race track. He claims that he got down there to help feed the other fellows. We can't afford to run such long winded matter in the paper. This is not a sporting journal.

The Pennsylvania, the largest ship in the world, will soon commence running regular trips between New York and Hamburg. She was constructed in Belfast, is 600 feet long and but 80 feet shorter than the Great Eastern. She will carry 1200 passengers.
